Mr. James B, Eads says that Major Harrod, Louisiana's chief levee engineer, and one of the engineers on the Mississippi River Improvement Committee, has care fully examined his plan for the restoration of the harbor of Vicksburg and fully approves it.

Captain John A. Bofinger, of St. Louis, has made a contract with Secretary Sher man under which he is authorized to raise all abandoned property now lying in Red River, conisiana. This property consists of sunken gunboats, iron plating taken from sides of gunboust, cannon, shot and shell thrown into Red River above the falls at Alexandria, Louisiana, during Gen. Bank's administration. The contract also mentions the sunken steamers Falls City, Ed. F. Dix and Emma, formerly of St. Louis, and some one hundred or one hundred and fifty others steamers sunk before and during the war. The gunboat Eastport, which the Captain expects to raise, was the largest of the Mississippi flottila, carrying some four-teen guns and being very heavily plated. The condition of the contract is that all the material recovered shall be sold at public auction either at St. Louis or Cincinnati. The Henry Frank refused freight, and left last evening for New Orleans with nearly 2,000 tons. Capt. Hicks understands it is the heaviest steamboat carge going out of St. Louis this season. Cole Boren and Geo. Robirds are the Frank's pilots.—[St. Louis P. D.

MURDER AT PICKETTS.

Happy Jack Stabbed to Death By Charles Smith.

A fatal stabbing affray occurred about 9 And Charged With Emberding Money From o'clock last night in Henry Pickett's ranch, No. 91 East Front street, between two colored men, John Wilson, better known as "Happy Jack," and Charles Smith, The "Happy Jack," and Charles Smith. The pany, which charges him with embezzhag former is about thirty years old and the on or about the 1st day of January, 1880, latter about twenty-five. Both men are river roustabouts. Wilson came up yes- Globe Insurance Company, while in the terday on the steamboat Clifton and Smith employ of said Company as Clerk. was discharged the same day from the Hospital. At the time stated above Wilson was standing before Pickett's bar drinking a glass of whisky.

Smith came in and asked Happy Jack to treat. The latter refused, whereup in Smith called him a s—and other vile names. Then a row ensued, and several blows were struck but no damage was done. Wilson then left the room and went into the hall leading to the dance room in the rear in the basement. Smith followed. Once in this passage way the progress of both men was stopped by the fast thickening crowd. A few angry words passed, when Smith suddenly drew a clasp spring knife, with a blade five inches in length, and stabbed Wilson in the left breast, the wound penetrating the heart, and causing death within a few minutes. After being stabbed, Wilson turned and ran up a flight of stairs leading to Pickett's room, where he fell at the door exhausted from loss of

He was then removed to the dance-room on the first floor, where he expired fifteen minutes later. Smith, after the stabbing, walked through the bar-room toward Front street with the bloody knife in his hand, remarking on the way to Kittle Morris one of the denizens of the establishment "I said I would kill him, and I have done it." Smith then cooly wiped the blood off the knife with his fingers and pocketed it. and walked out of the saloon, making his

About 4 o'clock this morning Smith was arrested by Lieutenant Montgomery at the Good Samaritan Hospital, and taken to Hammond street Station.

The body of the deceased was taken to Habig's, and the Coroner notified.

Smith was arraigned in the Police Court The case was continued until next Satur day, Smith in the meantime being locked up without bail.

Dr. J. H. Hazen having been instructed to make a post mortem examination, Cor oner Carries in the meantime opened the inquest this morning. Henry Pickett the proprietor of the ranch, testified to the oan character of the orisoner.
Charles havis testified to witnessing the row at the bar and to hearing Smith say in the hall that he had a notion to stick his knife into Wilson "clear up to the handle," Smith then stabbed Wilson and walked away.

This testimony, with that of the other witnesses, was only a corroboration of what has already been published.

The post-mortem examination showed that the wound was an incised one, between the first and second ribs of the left tween the first and second ribs of the left side of the breest, three-quarters of an inch in extent. The dirk or knife pas-ed entire y through the upper portion of the left lung, causing internal hem ribge.

The two witnesses, Bob Williams and Charles Davis, being the only ones who saw the stabbing, and they residents, were locked up in the Jail to make their appearance sure at the trial.
The attorney for Smith refused to allow him to testify.

A verdict was returned by the Coroner this afternoon as follows:

"Death from an incised wound in the upper part of the left breast, penetrating the long and causing internal hemorrhane. I further find said wound was inflicted with a keile in the hands of Charles Smith.

and that it was done without cause or provocation." EXPRESSMEN'S AID SOCIETY.
